With reference to the subject cited above, it is to inform that, on the basis of the Clause 7 of the Assam Accord between the All Assam Students Union and Government of India in the year 1985, the then Ministry of Water Resources entrusted Brahmaputra Board for construction of North Eastern Hydraulic & Allied Research Institute (NEHARI) during 1988-89 with a mandate to carry out field and laboratory investigations, research and development work of basic and applied problems in geomechanics, concrete technology, construction materials and associated environmental issues, having direct bearing on the development of irrigation, flood control and power projects in the North Eastern Region. The basic infrastructure for the Institute was completed during 1996 at Rudreswar, North Guwahati and was operationalised in the same year.
